This Week's Craft:

READ

Yarn Wrapped Bird!

- The Someday Birds by Sally Pla When his father heads from California to Virginia for medical treatment, Charlie reluctantly travels cross-country with his boy-crazy sister, unruly brothers, and a mysterious new family friend. He decides that if he can spot all the birds that he and his father were hoping to see someday along the way, then everything might just turn out okay.
- The Bird in me Flies by Sara Lundberg Berta dreams of being an artist, but as a girl growing up in a small Swedish farming village in the 1920s, she has little hope. She finds solace in nature, and in drawing and shaping birds from clay for her mother, the only person who seems to truly understand her.
- Nature all Around: Birds by Pamela Hickman A perfect resource for young ornithologists, encouraging readers to appreciate the world of birds.

WATCH

The Wild Parrots of Telegraph Hill \(2003\) In a celebration of urban wildness, THE WILD PARROTS OF TELEGRAPH HILL follows formerly homeless street musician Mark Bittner into San Francisco's avian subculture, where a remarkable flock of wild green-and-red parrots live and work to survive.

KEEP LEARNING

National Geographic Kids Database Engage young students and broaden their horizons with reputable, authoritative, age-appropriate digital content that brings them the world in a way they've never seen before. National Geographic Kids will take them on amazing adventures in science, nature, culture, archaeology, and space.
